

PREVIEW

from Nature

Ralph Waldo Emerson

Summary In this selection, Emerson writes about the harmony between himself and nature. He believes all living things are connected and reflect each other. Emerson describes how beauty, peace, and spirituality can be found in the natural world.

Note-taking Guide

Read the selection. Using the chart, rewrite-complicated or long sentences in your own words.

from Nature:	In your own words:
"In the woods, too, a man casts off his years, as the snake his slough, and at what period soever of life is always a child."
"I become a transparent eyeball; I am nothing; I see all; the currents of the Universal Being circulate through me; I am part or parcel of God."	